"Ilaria Alpi" journalistic television award - 2008 Call for Entries

The Award was born in 1995 from an idea of the cultural association Comunità Aperta in Riccione (Rimini – Adriatic Coast). It is dedicated to the memory of Ilaria Alpi, a reporter of Rai (Italian public broadcaster) that was killed in Somalia on March 20, 1994 together with the freelance cameraman Miran Hrovatin. The Award, which has come to its 14th edition, is one of the most important venues for discussion and reflection on investigation journalism in Italy.

Ilaria Alpi performed her profession as journalist with unusual dedication and ethical values. Today, that type of journalism should be looked at, promoted and enhanced as a reference.

The Journalistic Television Award dedicated to Ilaria Alpi was born to acknowledge and promote commitment to television reports on social issues.

The competition is addressed to television reports and investigations covering issues of social and civil interest (solidarity, non-violence, justice, human rights, and employment). Reports will be evaluated on their information value and therefore the non-use of advanced technological means will not be penalized.

The Ilaria Alpi Television Journalistic Award for non-Italian journalists and newspapers is divided into the following sections:

Best International Report Award

reserved for press reports (reports and investigations) that were broadcast on national and international television networks. TV press offices and journalists can submit up to three reports to the Award Secretary Office. The Best International Report Award amounts to euro 2,500.

International Miran Hrovatin Award

TV press offices, cameramen and video journalists can submit their reports to the Award Secretary Office. Reports will be evaluated on the images shown. The reports that participate in the other sections also compete for the Miran Hrovatin Award, which amounts to euro 2,500.

The finalists will be selected by the jury chaired by Italo Moretti and including Luca Ajroldi, Alessandro Banfi, Gerardo Bombonato, Giovanna Lio, Paolo Meucci, Roberto Morrione, Paola Palombaro, Sandro Provvisionato, Roberto Scardova, Andrea Vianello, Romano Tamberlich, Andrea Iervolino, Claudio Speranza, and Stefano Paolillo.

The winners will be chosen by the same jury including also:

- Francesco Zizola, photographer
- Concita De Gregorio, journalist
- Enrico Menduni, University teacher
- Wilma Labate, film director
- Giancarlo De Cataldo, writer

All the videos submitted for competition must be received no later than 12 am on April 5, 2008. No registration fee is charged.

Other non-competing reports may also be submitted. They will be shown out of competition at the Award. Reports presented not directly by their authors but by press offices may also participate.

The Ilaria Alpi Award is entitled to:

1. Keep in the audio-visual archives of the Ilaria Alpi Observatory the original and the copies of the reports submitted for competition, only for purposes of conservation and dissemination (consultation and borrowing) and for didactic and non-commercial purposes (submitted works shall not be returned);
2. Copy and use the images (frame) taken from the works submitted for competition in the publications and advertising material of the Ilaria Alpi Award;
3. Use the submitted reports for information and promotional purposes, mentioning their production and author, for a maximum of 3 minutes for each report:
 - on the days of the Ilaria Alpi Award and related events;
 - in a CD-Rom / DVD video;
 - on Websites.

The Ilaria Alpi television journalistic award will be held in Riccione (Italy) on 5, 6 and 7 June 2008.
